A free-to-attend seminar, featuring a variety of presentations and demonstrations.

In order to celebrate their recent partnership, Datalex, the specialist provider of litigation support and document management services and Anacomp Ltd, owner of hosted litigation support software CaseLogistix, are delighted to invite you to this joint seminar.

DataLex and CaseLogistix are working together to offer the best litigation support solutions to law firms and in-house counsel in the UK.

DataLex provides a wide range of litigation and document management solutions, including document scanning, coding and electronic data processing. Years within the industry have seen DataLex achieve an expertise which is second to none. The high levels of security and confidentiality employed mean that clients can be confident their documentation and data are in the safest of hands.

CaseLogistix enables legal teams to quickly organise, review, analyse and produce digital evidence. Its functionalities include secure hosting (Anacomp owns one of the world's largest document repository of 22 Billion pages worldwide), native file processing and full Unicode compliance covering all foreign language character sets. Extremely easy to use, completely customisable and available either on-site or outsourced (SaaS), CaseLogistix has gained a solid reputation within the legal industry throughout the recent years.

This event is a unique opportunity to:

- discuss the issues that are particularly affecting your organisation
- find out more about DataLex's best of breed services portfolio
- attend a demo of CaseLogistix version 5.2.1 and see how you could benefit from its outstanding functionalities
